Cornerstone Genealogical Society
Waynesburg, Pa.

Gift Acceptance

Collections, books and other materials will be accepted on the condition that the Board has the authority to make whatsoever disposition deemed advisable. If a portion of a collection that has been accepted by the Board cannot be maintained by Cornerstone due to lack of space, etc., the Board will attempt to locate an appropriate place of interest. No part of a collection will be destroyed without a vote of the board.

Gifts of any kind may be refused if conditions are imposed which are unacceptable or inconsistent with the Library’s objective. (Objective: To collect and maintain and make available all materials, books, papers, pictures, microfilm, personal collections and files for genealogical research. The major emphasis of the Cornerstone Library collection is the thirteen states, local history, and genealogy and the emigration routes.)

The Cornerstone Genealogical Society cannot give a certificate of value for gifts of any type, except money. If such an appraisal is desired, it is the responsibility of the donor to employ a qualified appraiser. A receipt, which is simply descriptive, with no value judgment, can be given.

Gifts of real estate, trusts, stock, etc. will be accepted unless there are conditions which are unacceptable to the Board of Directors of the Cornerstone Genealogical Society.

Monetary gifts are acceptable and may be used for library, materials, furniture and equipment and other library expenditures.
